Short description:

The Pedagogical University of Maputo adopted the S4D approach into its curriculum for physical education teachers. Future physical education teachers are systematically qualified in S4D, the quality of physical education is improved and S4D is spread nationwide, reaching schools and pupils in the whole country. During their studies, the qualified teachers support civil society organisations in Matola in establishing S4D activities. The renovation and construction of sports grounds in densely populated areas create important spaces for learning and recreation for socio-economically disadvantaged children and young people.
