Type of activity:

Dissemination of the SDGs

Short description:

Instituto 17 (i17) is a non-profit organisation founded in 2018 to enable the dissemination of the sustainable development objectives (SDGs) and propose solutions based on circular economy, environmental protection and local development. Since 2018, UN-Habitat Brazil has held the Urban Circuit: an initiative to support and give visibility to events with the aim of celebrating Urban October. In 2021, the theme is “Cities at the forefront of Climate Action”. Instituto 17 will participate on 19 October with the webinar “Healthy Cities: Physical activity in urban spaces” to discuss the right and access to physical activity in urban areas. “Healthy Cities: Physical activity in urban spaces” presents examples of good practices and discusses possibilities for implementing actions to face the challenges of cities in achieving sustainability.
